WITH PEARY AT THE NORTH POLE

TELLS STORY OF THE TRIP

Matthew Henson Gives an Account of the Eventful Journey He Made With Peary to the Top of the World—The Only Other Civilized Man, According to Peary, Who Ever Reached the North Pole.

Battle Harbor, Labrador, by Wireless via Cape Ray, N. F., Sept. 16.—“We hoisted the Stars and Stripes twice at the North Pole,” said Matthew Henson, Commander Robert E. Peary’s colored lieutenant, and the only other civilized man, according to Peary, who ever reached the pole.

Henson gave an account of the one night and two days he and Commander Peary and four Eskimos camped at 90 degrees north latitude. Henson personally assisted in raising the American flag and he led the Eskimos in the cheers and an extra cheer for Old Glory in the Eskimo tongue.

“Having spent eighteen years with Commander Peary, and a considerable portion of that time in the Arctic,” said Henson, “I have acquired a knowledge of the dialect of the Northern Greenland Eskimos, who probably are superior to any other. As is commonly known to travelers in the Far North, the Eskimo entertains a strange prejudice toward any tongue but one, and it is therefore necessary for successful dealings with them to study their unwritten language.

Six Persons at the Pole.

“We arrived at the pole before noon, April 6, the party consisting of the commander, myself, four Eskimos and thirty-six dogs, divided into two detachments equal in number and headed respectively by Commander Peary and myself. We had left the last supporting party at 87 degrees, 53 minutes, where we separated from Captain Bartlett, who was photographed by the commander. Captain Bartlett regretted that he did not have a British flag to erect on the ice at this spot, so that the photograph might show this as the farthest north to which the banner of Britain had been advanced.

“I kept a personal diary during this historic dash across the ice field. Our first task on reaching the pole was to build two igloos, as the weather was hazy and prevented taking accurate observations to confirm the distance traveled from Cape Columbia. Having completed the snow houses, we had dinner, which included tea made on our alcohol stove, and then retired to rest, thus sleeping one night at the North Pole.

Hoisted the Ensigns.

“The Arctic sun was shining when I awoke, and found the commander already up. There was only wind enough to blow out the small flags. The ensigns were hoisted toward noon from tent poles and tied with fish lines.

“We had figured out the distance pretty closely and did not go beyond the pole. The flags were up about midday April 7 and were not moved until late that evening. The haze had cleared away early, but we wanted some hours to make observations. We made three close together.

“When we first raised the American flag its position was behind the igloos, which according to our initial observations was the position of the pole, but on taking subsequent observations the Stars and Stripes was moved and placed 150 yards west of the first position, the difference in the observations being due perhaps to the moving ice.

“When the flag was placed, Commander Peary exclaimed in English: ‘We will plant the Stars and Stripes at the North Pole.’

Eskimos Gave Three Cheers.

“In the native language I proposed three cheers, which were given in the Eskimos’ own tongue. Commander Peary shook hands all around and we had a more liberal dinner than usual, each man eating as much as he pleased. The Eskimos danced about and showed great pleasure that the pole at last was reached. For years the Eskimos had been trying to reach that spot, but it was always with them ‘tiguegh,’ which translated means ‘Got so far and no closer.’ They exclaimed in a chorus, ‘Ting Neigh Timah Ketisher,’ meaning ‘We have got there at last.’

Henson, who reached the farthest north with Peary three years ago, said that conditions were about the same at the pole as elsewhere in the Arctic circle. All was a solid sea of ice

Our New Coats Are Finding Wearers

The best thing that we can say regarding our new coats is that they are already, at this early date, finding wearers.

We know that there is every element of late style represented in them and we know that the tailoring is most excellent.

We believe that we have one that will please you and we know that if we have, you will find the price most reasonable.

GIVEN A CLEAN BILL OF HEALTH

President Taft Exonerates Secretary Ballinger.

Utica, N. Y., Sept. 16.—President Taft has given Secretary of the Interior Ballinger a clean bill of health in the entire Ballinger-Pinchot dispute. In the matter of the Cunningham coal claims in Alaska Ballinger is absolved from all suspicion of wrongdoing and L. R. Glavis, chief of the field division of the general land office, who prepared the charges against the secretary of the interior, is ordered dismissed from the service. In the matter of the general policy to be observed in the conservation of natural resources, the president, without naming the chief forester, overrules all of his contentions, which were the policies of Roosevelt, and puts his seal of approval on the later methods of Secretary Ballinger.

This latter was the issue of prime importance in which Secretary Ballinger and Mr. Pinchot differed, the question being whether the law with regard to public lands shall be strictly construed or loosely. In the latter instance to the advantage of the public and against the water-power trust, even to the extent of going a little beyond the verbatim dictate of the statute if necessary. Upon this point the president says—and the sentence contains the meat of his long decision on the much disputed question:

“In my judgment he is the best friend of conservation of natural resources who insists that every step taken in that direction should be within the law and witnessed by legal authority. Insistence upon this is not inconsistent with a whole-hearted and bonafide interest and enthusiasm in favor of the conservation policy. From my conference with you and from everything which I know in respect to the conduct of your department, I am able to say that you are fully in sympathy with the attitude of the administration in favor of the conservation of natural resources.”

And therefore insofar as the Roosevelt-Pinchot policies do not conform to this doctrine, the Roosevelt policies are to be abandoned by the Taft administration in the conservation of natural resources.

Apollo Belvidere.

The celebrated statue, Apollo Belvidere, is supposed to be from the chisel of the Greek sculptor Calamis, who flourished in the fifth century B. C. It is called the Belvidere from the Belvidere gallery of the Vatican, in Rome, where it stands. It was discovered in 1503 among the ruins of Antium, and was purchased by Pope Julius II.

WAS IN PRECARIOUS CONDITION LAST NIGHT

Governor is Conscious and Very Cheerful but His Condition Is Still Extremely Grave

Special to The Dispatch—

Rochester, Minn., September, 16th.—The following bulletin bearing the signature of Dr. Wm. J. Mayo was issued at 10 a. m.: “Governor Johnson was in a precarious condition at 3 o’clock this morning, but rallied. Temperature 99, pulse 105.” Governor Johnson is conscious and very cheerful but his condition is extremely grave. His physicians believe that tonight will be the test. If he survives that approaching crisis, he will, they think, recover.

GOVERNOR JOHNSON MUCH IMPROVED

Special to The Dispatch—

Rochester, Minn.—It was stated at 8:30 this morning by the house physicians at St. Mary’s hospital that Governor Johnson’s condition was much improved. Governor Johnson passed a restless night but every hope is entertained for his recovery if he should get through the next twelve hours without a sinking spell.

Rochester, Minn., Sept. 16.—After a critical evening and early morning during which the pendulum of life vacillated between hope and despair Governor John A. Johnson lies at St. Mary’s hospital in such a condition that the entrance of a meager unfavorable factor may precipitate the end against which the state’s chief executive has been fighting so gallantly since the operation performed by the Doctors Mayo to remove intestinal adhesions.

The latest returns from the hospital however, are that the governor has taken a turn for the better, for the present at least having successfully withstood what appeared to be the first crisis of the shock following the operation. It was believed that sleep would soon be induced which would give the patient a chance to recoup his strength.

The forepart of the night was most uncertain, frequent sinking spells, accompanied by none too encouraging pulse and temperature readings alarming the house physician to such an extent that Dr. W. J. Mayo was called from his home to the hospital. Early this morning, however, the governor had weathered several sharp attacks and while enduring excruciating pain, was able to catch occasional bits of sleep.

Returns from the hospital at and after midnight were that the Doctors Mayo expect the governor to survive the night. The real crisis will be reached today sometime, it is expected, and if he survives it, the chances of recovery will be materially strengthened. Danger will still be imminent, however, for four or five days.

What gives the greatest hope is the statement made by Dr. W. J. Mayo to Frank A. Day, the governor’s secretary, in St. Paul, in which the physician expressed the belief that Governor Johnson will recover.

Mrs. Johnson occupied a room adjoining that of the patient, and although several sinking spells were experienced, she was not called because of them.

In order to aid the governor in battling the periods of depression, stimulants were administered freely and the physicians expressed great satisfaction over the quick rallies which followed.

Go With a Rush

The demand for that wonderful Stomach, Liver and Kidney cure, Dr. King's New Life Pills—is astonishing—H. P. Dunn says he never saw the like. Its because they never fail to cure sour stomach, constipation, indigestion, biliousness, jaundice, sick headache, chills and malaria. Only 25c. 11-ta-w

The Oldest Book.

The oldest book in the world, so far as present information goes, is that by Ptah-Hotep, the Egyptian, compiled in the reign of Assa, about 3366 B. C. The manuscript of this ancient work is preserved in the Bibliotheque Nationale, Paris. It is written on papyrus, in hieratic characters, and is made up largely of political, moral and religious aphorisms.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portions of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. (unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

"U" IS THE SHORTEST.

Island Off the Coast of Korea Bears the Littlest Name.

The new list of names adopted by the United States geographic board contains the shortest geographical name on record, it being U, which is an island east of Quelpart Island, on the southern coast of Korea. It used to be "in the olden days" that the river Po, in Italy, had the distinction of having the shortest geographical name on record, but it will be seen that U goes it one better.

A Large Contract

When H. P. Dunn, the enterprising druggist, first offered a 50c package of Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia at half price, and guaranteed to return the money if it did not cure, Mr. Dunn thought it probable from his experience with other medicines for these diseases, that he would have a good many packages returned. But although he has sold hundreds of bottles, not one has been brought back.

Mr. Dunn wants every person in Brainerd who has constipation, dyspepsia, headache or liver trouble to come to his store or send him 25 cents by mail and get 60 doses of the best medicine ever made at half the regular price, with his personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure.

To those suffering with dizziness, headache, poor digestion, constipation and straining, Dr. Howard's specific offers quick relief.

BEING SICK IN CHINA.
What Happens When a Devil Jumps Down a Patient's Throat.
It is the custom for a Chinaman to visit the barber every week to have a general overhauling. First, the head and face are shaved; second, the ears are scraped and cleansed with a small brush made of duck's hair; third, the upper and lower eyelids are scraped with a dull edged knife, all granulations being smoothed away, and then an application is made with a duck's hair brush of salt solution.
This is the reason why you will find so much blindness in China. They take no antiseptic measures whatever. Finally the patient's back is massaged, and after paying a fee of 3 cents and no tip he leaves the shop, feeling clean outside, but now must consult his regular physician.
After going through the usual examination, which is a form of military inspection, the doctor diagnoses the case and treats it unless a devil happens to jump down the patient's throat. If this has happened the doctor can do the patient no good until he promises to set off a hundred firecrackers and to make a daily visit to the joss house. This done, he receives the usual pills for those vacated by the devil.
These pills may consist of spotted rhinoceros horns, said to be a wonderful cure for intestinal troubles. The spotted rhinoceros horns come from southern China, and in the market at Singapore a single specimen will bring $25.
Tiger bones when ground to a powder and mixed with Chinese wine make a great blood tonic which is used by all classes of Chinese in northern China. The recipe is held by a firm in Shanghai that has become very wealthy by the sale of this tonic.
Old deer horns are boiled down to make the medicinal glue which binds the fifty ingredients composing the average Chinese pills. As in these you may get anything from a pinch of gunpowder to powdered cobra tail dust it is not the fault of Wong Yik Chee if just the right kind of specific escapes the patient.
Equal in medicinal efficacy to the above are three high grade tiger remedies, the eyeball, liver and blood. As may be imagined, tiger eyeball, the genuine article, can be prescribed for only the exceedingly wealthy Chinese. Similarly the liver, when dried and reduced to a powder, is worth its weight in gold all over China. Tiger blood, when evaporated to a solid at a temperature of 110 degrees and taken as a powder, is believed by Asiatics to transform a craven into a hero.—Medical Record.

"You are sure you can support my daughter in the style to which she has been accustomed?" asked the heavy father.
"Sure," answered our hero, with the assurance of youth.
"Well, I'm glad to hear it. It's more than I can afford any longer."

Adams-Griffin

Duluth News-Tribune, Sept. 16:

A pretty wedding took place at 8 o'clock last night in St. Paul's Episcopal church, when Miss Mary Hortense Griffin, of Woodstock, Vt., became the bride of Culver Adams, of Deerwood, Minn., Rev. A. W. Ryan officiating. The ushers were: John Peyton, Carson, Agnew and Herbert Adams, brother of the groom, and Lois Barton.

The bride was gowned in white chiffon over silk, with a long train. She wore a wreath and veil and carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. Her maid of honor, Miss Ruth Griffin, was also gowned in white lace and carried a bouquet of white roses. Miss Jessie Hartley and Miss Irma Hartley, bridesmaids, wore cream chiffon de white lace and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Before the entrance of the bridal party, Donald Alexander sang "The Marriage Day," by Prof. A. F. M. Custance and as the party approached the altar, Mr. Custance played the wedding march from Lohengrin. About 100 persons attended the service.

A reception was held afterwards in the parlor of the Spalding hotel, when more than 100 guests called to congratulate the bridal couple. Others in the receiving line were: Mrs. Cuyler Adams, mother of the groom, Miss Griffin, sister of the bride, and Mrs. G. G. Hartley. The out of town guests were: Mrs. W. L. Burnap and R. L. Burnap, of Chicago.

Mr. Adams and his bride have left for a three weeks' wedding trip along the western coast and will be at home in Deerwood after Nov. 1.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

Lena Rivers Last Night

The production of "Lena Rivers" last evening at the opera house was fully up to the standard that could be expected for the prices charged and would have been thoroughly enjoyed by the audience at large had it not been for a few would be smart alecks in the rear of the dress circle, who either because of drink or lack of common sense were making a disturbance and annoying everyone in that part of the house.

A Suspicious Silence.

Howard was only twenty months older than the baby. He had somehow come to realize that Elwood, who was creeping, was more likely to be in mischief when quiet. One day he called to his mother with a great deal of anxiety in his little voice, "Mamma, I hear Elwood keeping still."—Delineator.

MYSTERY SURROUNDS DEATH

Body of an Ohio Girl Found in the Tuscawawas River.

Canal Dover, O., Sept. 16.—Police are searching for an unidentified girl who met Miss Florence Weber, whose body was found in the Tuscawawas river Wednesday, shortly after Miss Weber left the home of her uncle Monday night in response to a mysterious telephone message. Relatives say the message came from a woman. Miss Weber is supposed to have met her death Monday night. Mrs. Catherine Keulerleber informed the police that she saw the girls meet soon after Miss Weber left the house. Mrs. Keulerleber, who is well acquainted here, says the girl Miss Weber met was a stranger. She gave the police a good description of her.

The story of R. J. Collier to the effect that he saw a man and a woman quarrelling on a bridge Monday night near the spot where the girl's body was found has caused the police to institute a search for the man.

The theory that Miss Weber committed suicide was strengthened when Coroner Romig reported that there were no bruises on the girl's body.

Miss Weber's parents insist that the girl met with foul play.

The Wings of Time.

"Mamma," said little Tommy as he closed the big book, "what are the 'wings of time'?"

"The 'wings of time,' my son," replied his mother in loud tones, "are the faded wings I have been wearing on my hat for three seasons."

And then pa coughed uneasily and told Tommy if he did not stop asking foolish questions he would send him to bed.

The Political Millennium.

Two Kansas farmers, one of them a Republican and the other a Democrat, were quarrelling over their political beliefs. The more they argued the further apart they drifted. Finally they called in a neighbor to settle the dispute. This neighbor was a man who seldom said anything, who went about his business, was a good citizen and substantial in every way.

"Well," he replied after both had stated their sides, "my son and I have been hauling wheat nearly forty years now. There are two roads leading to the mill. One is the valley road and the other leads over the hill. But never yet has the miller asked me which road we came. He always asks, 'Is the wheat good?'"—Kansas City Journal.

BANKERS TALK BUSINESS

Technical Subjects Discussed in Chicago Convention.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—Two great divisions of banking activity, the trust company and the clearing house, occupied the attention of the delegates to the convention of the American Bankers' association here.

Before the trust company section, which was welcomed to Chicago by E. A. Potter, president of the American Trust and Savings bank, the principal address was voiced by Daniel S. Rensen of the New York bar, author of a treatise on the law of decedent estates, who spoke on the "Post Mortem Administration of Wealth."

The safety of the estate, he declared, was the first consideration and for that reason argued that the integrity and business ability of an executor, whether an individual or a trust company, was of the greatest importance.

Strong endorsement of gold as the only safe reserve fund for a bank was the burden of the annual address of E. C. McDougal, president of the clearing house section. Much of the programme of the day was technical and the clearing house section members discussed methods of accomplishing the work in different sections of the country. A symposium of the views of the clearing house examiners in the cities which conduct clearing house bank examinations, closed the session of the section.

At the close of the session of the trust company section H. P. McIntosh of Cleveland was elected president of the section, and Oliver C. Fuller of Milwaukee was elected first vice president.

Women Who Wear Well.

It is astonishing how great a change a few years of married life often make in the appearance and disposition of many women. The freshness, the charm, the brilliance vanish like the bloom from a peach which is rudely handled. The matron is only a dim shadow, a faint echo of the charming maiden. There are two reasons for this change, ignorance and neglect. Few young women appreciate the shock to the system through the change which comes with marriage and motherhood. Many neglect to deal with the unpleasant pelvic drains and weaknesses which too often come with marriage and motherhood, not understanding that this secret drain is robbing the cheek of its freshness and the form of its fairness.

As surely as the general health suffers when there is derangement of the health of the delicate womanly organs, so surely when these organs are established in health the face and form at once witness to the fact in renewed comeliness. Nearly a million women have found health and happiness in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Ingredients on label—contains no alcohol or harmful habit-forming drugs. Made wholly of those native, American, medicinal roots most highly recommended by leading medical authorities of all the several schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments.

For nursing mothers, or for those broken-down in health by too frequent bearing of children, also for the expectant mothers, to prepare the system for the coming of baby and making its advent easy and almost painless, there is no medicine quite so good as "Favorite Prescription." It can do no harm in any condition of the system. It is a most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening nerve tonic adapted to woman's delicate system by a physician of large experience in the treatment of woman's peculiar ailments.

Dr. Pierce may be consulted by letter free of charge. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

EIGHT TRAINMEN KILLED

Fifteen Passengers Injured, Two Probably Fatally.

Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 16.—Eight trainmen killed and fifteen passengers injured, two perhaps fatally, is the result of a collision between a passenger and a freight train on the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railroad at Pegram station, about twenty miles west of here. In the fire that followed at least two of the bodies were consumed and it is feared that others not yet found have been reduced to cinders, undistinguishable from the mass of ashes about them.

All the injured passengers are from North Carolina and Tennessee.

GENUINE ECZEMA REMEDY

New Remedy That Cures Eczema Quickly

H. P. Dunn has sold hundreds of jars of Hokara in the last few weeks, and although he offered to refund the purchase price to any dissatisfied purchaser, not one jar was returned.

While this is surprising in itself, yet the most marvelous thing is the reports of chronic cases of eczema that have been cured by this simple skin food. People who have suffered with scales, sores and even bleeding itching have found relief in Hokara.

No matter where the eczema, pimples or other breaking out occurs, whether on the face, hands, legs or body, the application of Hokara will give quick relief, and even the worst or most chronic cases will be cured in a short time.

You can buy a liberal-sized jar at a very low price, 25c, and with every package goes a guarantee to refund the money if it is not satisfactory. Larger size 50c.

If the skin trouble is caused by impure or heated blood and the bowels are in need of medicine, use Hokara Blood tablets—50c a package sold on guarantee.

Materials For Swords.

Perhaps no manufactured article has so variously adapted itself to circumstances as the sword. It has been made of stone, wood, bone, copper, brass, bronze and iron. It has assumed as many shapes and sizes. It has been long and short, wide and narrow, curved and straight, heavy and light, pointed, round and square, sharp on one side, on both sides and on neither side.

Could Not Get Insured

Until kidney disease was cured by DR. A. W. CHASE'S KIDNEY AND LIVER PILLS

Most railroad men wear by Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills as the most satisfactory treatment for their special ailments—kidney disease and constipation.

This railroad man could not get life insurance until cured of kidney disease by Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills. Here is his letter:

Mr. W. M. Bago, Driftwood, Pa., writes: "I am railroad between Driftwood and DuBois and have been greatly troubled with my kidneys, so that I could not rest or sleep nights. Hearing about Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills I began using them, and can now report that I am entirely cured and in the best health and spirits that I ever enjoyed. By use of this treatment I have gained in weight, my flesh is hard and firm and I have successfully passed an insurance examination, which I could never have done had the kidneys not been thoroughly sound and well."

CROWDS CHEER THE PRESIDENT

Thousands Turn Out to Greet the Chief Executive.

ON HIS JOURNEY TO CHICAGO

Wherever His Train Stops Large Crowds Assemble to Meet President Taft, Who Is Prevailed Upon to Make Several Short Speeches From the Platform of His Car at Points Not Included in His Itinerary.

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 16.—After traversing the states of Massachusetts and New York, President Taft is skirting the southern shores of Lake Erie on his way to Chicago, where he will make his first important stop on a 13,000-mile tour of the West and South.

Wherever the train stopped on its run from Boston there were large crowds at the railway stations, and the president was greeted with enthusiastic cheering. The day was typical of many that are to come, and the president was prevailed upon to make a number of five-minute speeches from the rear platform of his car at points not included in the itinerary. In Massachusetts Mr. Taft spoke at Worcester, Springfield and Pittsfield. Entering New York state he was greeted at Albany by Governor Charles E. Hughes and both made little talks to the depot throng, which cheered the executives with equal enthusiasm. Governor Hughes became the president's guest on the run from Albany to Syracuse and had dinner with him on the car Mayflower.

President Taft was in rare good humor. He seemed thoroughly happy that the journey toward which he has been looking for several months had at last begun. He thanked those who came to greet him in the different cities and said he believed that the long and arduous trip would bring him into Closer Touch With the People than any other plan which could be devised. Mr. Taft said that the more he could see of the country and the people during his term of office, the better president he would be. In behalf of the people of the state of New York, Governor Hughes bade the president Godspeed and a safe return to his duties at Washington.

Mr. Taft and Governor Hughes are pronounced admirers of each other and their meetings always are characterized by many exchanges of graceful and earnest compliments. President Taft told of the splendid work Governor Hughes had done for him and the governor replied that the president could never call upon him in vain.

Starting from Boston in the morning, the president headed straight for the West. It was his fifty-second birthday and he received many congratulations and messages of good will. At Pittsfield some enthusiastic admirers fairly filled the president's car with flowers. The throng which lined the way from the hotel to the station in Boston was but a forerunner of those encountered along the way. Even at places where the president's train did not stop, there were many to wave him a greeting.

The president set a precedent for the entire trip by electing to run on a slow schedule. The New York Central lines surrounded the train with every precaution for its safety. There always were three men on the engine and prominent representatives of the traffic department were aboard from the start.

LITTLE TROUBLE EXPECTED

Car Workers at Schoenville, Pa., Again Out on Strike.

Pittsburg, Sept. 16.—The car workers' strike at the plant of the Pressed Steel Car company in Schoenville, which was thought settled on Wednesday of last week, after costing nine lives and heavy financial loss, began anew when between 3,000 and 4,000 employees of the car works walked from their work and quietly dispersed to their homes.

The workmen now allege the car company officials have broken faith with them regarding the discharge of imported bosses brought here during the recent eight-weeks' labor trouble.

It was announced later by the car plant officials that they would probably discharge what few imported workmen are yet in the plant, in a second effort to resume business and keep their plant running.

There are fifty deputy sheriffs on guard at the car plant. Little or no trouble is anticipated, however, and it is believed that soon the car works will again be in full operation.

FREE SUNDAY FOR SAILORS

Hope of Naval Jack Tars to Become a Reality.

Washington, Sept. 16.—"Free Sunday," for so many years the hope deferred of "Jack Tar" in the United States navy, is about to become a reality. Acting Secretary Winthrop has issued an order having this object in view. Its purpose is to reduce the work aboard ship on the Sabbath to a minimum consistent with requirements of the service, to the end that that day may be generally observed as a day of rest.

WOMEN FIGHT A FIERCE BATTLE

One Kills the Other and Then Commits Suicide.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—Mrs. Julius Tripp and Mrs. Jacob Silvers of New York are dead as the result of a pistol and knife battle between the two women in Mrs. Tripp's apartments in this city. Mrs. Silvers is a sister-in-law of Mrs. Tripp. It is said her husband left her about three months ago. Mrs. Tripp is the wife of a superintendent of a manufacturing firm.

There were ten bullet wounds and one cut on the body of Mrs. Tripp, while Mrs. Silvers had a bullet wound in the chest and several knife slashes. Only one revolver was found in the apartments and eight empty shells and two cartridges were found, showing that the revolver was emptied and reloaded during the struggle. The furnishings of the apartments were in disorder and in every room there were evidences of the desperate struggle waged between the two women.

Mrs. Tripp was fully dressed, but Mrs. Silvers was in her night gown. Mrs. Silvers had been staying at the Tripp home for about a month and the two women are said to have had frequent quarrels, principally over the division of the household duties. It had been Mrs. Silvers' custom to take a nap in the afternoon and it is evident that she had prepared for this as usual.

The appearance almost simultaneously of the two women at different entrances to the apartment, each screaming for help and the knife wounds suffered by both has led the police to advance the theory that there was a third person in the tragedy instead of its being simply a battle between the two women or a murder and suicide. The theory that Mrs. Silvers or Mrs. Tripp attempted to commit suicide and that the other woman tried to prevent it was also advanced.

One strange feature of the tragedy is that no one heard any shots. The appeals for help were heard, but no one made any attempt to enter the apartments until after the police had been called.

Mrs. Tripp was found dead when the house was entered. She had ten bullet wounds and one knife wound in her body. Mrs. Silvers died at a hospital later. Before she died she recovered consciousness and made the statement that she had killed Mrs. Tripp and then committed suicide. The police were unable to get a full and connected statement from Mrs. Silvers, as she repeatedly became unconscious while being questioned and died before making a complete statement.

Mrs. Silvers had a bullet wound in her chest and another in her forehead. It was at first thought the wound in her forehead was made with a knife, but later it was found that a bullet had glanced off her frontal bone.

Three End Their Lives.

Minneapolis, Sept. 16.—The bodies of three persons who committed suicide lie in the morgue here. Mrs. Anna L. Clark shot herself while despondent; Colby Ware ended his life with gas because of unrequited love, and the body of Thomas Holt was found under a sidewalk, he having committed suicide some days ago with carbolic acid.

Cardinal Satolli Ill.

Milan, Sept. 16.—Cardinal Satolli, who was at one time apostolic delegate at Washington, is seriously ill.

SIDE LIGHTS ON E. H. HARRIMAN.

Origin of Famous Saying by the Late Financier.

HE ONCE DANCED IN PUBLIC.

Would Not Talk Business at His Arden Home and Offered Insistent Interviewer a Glass of Milk—One of Railroad Man's Favorite Stories.

In the famous insurance investigation in New York it came out that much of the money used by the late Edward H. Harriman in his railroad fights came from insurance companies. James Hazen Hyde, vice president of the Equitable Life Assurance society, appeared to be somewhat flattered by Mr. Harriman's attentions. Later at a directors' meeting Mr. Hyde made a speech accusing Harriman and friends of trying to kick him out and to get control of the society and its $400,000,000 assets. It was then that, white and speechless, Harriman sat back in his chair and gave forth sounds which those nearest to him said later appeared to boil out in one continuous torrent. His resignation as a trustee of the society followed.

"Not Yet, but Soon."

Before the Armstrong committee he told how on a certain night he had been kept at the Metropolitan club on one pretense or another while the deal for the control of the Equitable society was being put through. He said that upon hearing that Thomas F. Ryan had purchased control of the society he went to the new owner and demanded a half interest, which was refused. In his testimony he explained that as far as Ryan was concerned any effort he (Harriman) could make would be devoted to the destruction of an unworthy object. When asked by Mr. Hughes whether he had taken any step to accomplish this the answer came: "Not yet, but soon."

There was no mistaking the emphasis, and the words became a classic in Wall street history.

Harriman and Odell.

Charles E. Hughes when conducting the insurance investigation probed deeply into the intimate friendship of Mr. Harriman and former Governor of New York Benjamin B. Odell, and Mr. Harriman got off a now familiar joke.

"It has been charged," Mr. Hughes said, "that through your relations with Mr. Odell you have political influence. What have you to say to that?" "Well," came the reply, "I should say that Governor Odell had political influence because of his relations with me."

When Harriman Danced.

In Wall street there are afloat plenty of anecdotes illustrating the personality of the man in later years. Whenever the impenetrable reserve of the financier is mentioned the story is invariably told of the only time on record when Harriman ever showed any animation in public. It was in the fall of 1903, when the great Lucin cutoff, a pet project of Harriman's, was completed at Salt Lake City.

On this occasion Mr. Harriman danced. At the close of the ceremonies Mr. Harriman, who had been grave and dignified throughout, entered his private car to leave the scene. The band struck up "Yankee Doodle." A faint smile dawned on the Harriman features and began to spread. Presently he began to balance gracefully, and soon, in the midst of a circle of prominent railroad officials, he was doing the highland fling in the most abandoned style. Suddenly the band stopped playing, and Mr. Harriman gravely sat down.

Gave Reporter Milk, Not News.

At his home at Arden, N. Y., Mr. Harriman would not discuss business matters. He said to a reporter who sought him there:

"I left all my business vexations behind in New York city. This Arden to me is the Arden of 'As You Like It,' a retreat from the world's worries. Here I seek to free myself from all business cares and worries, and so far I have been successful. My guests here are made to understand that they are most welcome if they abstain from talking shop. And so, my dear young man, you are most welcome to my table, but not to a financial interview. By the way, do you like milk? If you do I think you might like a glass from one of my dairies."

One of Harriman's Stories.

In declaring that we must be careful not to legislate too harshly against the country's vested interests and with it the country's prosperity Mr. Harriman illustrated his meaning with a story. "There was a schoolteacher," he said, "who exclaimed impatiently one afternoon: 'Johnny Jones, what are you fumbling with there?' 'Johnny hung his head and was silent. But the telltale of the class spoke up: 'It's a pin he's got, ma'am.' 'Well, take it from him,' said the teacher, 'and bring it to me.' 'This was done, and then, in a mollified voice, the teacher said: 'Now, Johnny Jones, get up and recite your history lesson.' 'But Johnny did not obey. He blushed, hung his head and sat still. Then he said: 'I can't, ma'am. That there pin you took is what holds my trousers on'."

EMPEROR VERY INTERESTED

Watches Airship Spy Out Position of Red Army.

Mergentheim, Wuerttemberg, Sept. 16.—Surrounded by a brilliant company, including the king of Wuerttemberg, the Grand Dukes of Baden and Hesse, Archduke Francis Ferdinand, Winston Spencer Churchill, the Earl of Londsdale and Captain Samuel G. Shartle, United States military attaché, Emperor William witnessed the dramatic appearance of the military dirigible Gross II., which emerged from the clouds overhanging the valley of the Tauber. Those on board the airship were spying out the positions of the red army and transmitting their observations by wireless back to headquarters many miles in the rear.

The emperor was intensely interested and watched with his field glasses every turn of the airship, which answered the helm gracefully. The emperor spent six hours on a hilltop, following the development of the first decisive engagement between the red and the blue armies. He partook with his guests of the hot lunch served from the cuirassiers' traveling kitchen as the imperial automobile kitchen was unable to climb the steep hill. A crowd of spectators, which had gathered, were entertained by the sight of brilliantly uniformed lieutenants opening meat cans and serving soup.

The troops are responding splendidly to the demands made upon them. There have been few casualties.

World's Records Broken.

Montreal, Que., Sept. 16.—The smashing of two world's records, the half-mile by E. Lunghi, and the discus by Martin J. Sheridan, both of the Irish-American Athletic club, were the features of the Canadian amateur track and field championship meeting here. Sheridan threw the discus 139 feet, 10 1/2 inches. Lunghi's time in the half-mile race was 1:52 1/4.

Killed in Auto Accident.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 16.—Mrs. H. F. Good, daughter of the late J. R. Hoxie of Chicago, was killed by the overturning of an automobile near Buffalo. Her mother, Mrs. J. R. Hoxie of Chicago, had her arm broken and her brother, John Hoxie, was bruised. The automobile got beyond control on a steep hill.
